Dear Brendan,

Given the experiences and security concerns that some other schools have had with Ben Shapiro speaking on their campuses, DePaul cannot agree to allowing him to speak on our campus at this time. If DYAF would like to invite Mr. Shapiro to speak, it will need to pursue off-campus location options.

If you and the group would like to plan for another on-campus speaker in the fall, including Dinesh D'Souza or others from the list that the group originally proposed (Hoff Sommers, Crowder and Loesch), you can begin those conversations with Joe Mroczkowski and others as needed. At this time, DePaul expects that it will be possible to allow any of these individuals to speak on our campus. As with all speakers, DePaul may make various time, place, and manner requirements, including those that have been previously outlined by Joe Mroczkowski.

Thank you.

Bob Janis
