Organization Resources

Recognized Student Organizations (RSO) play an important role in campus life at Tarleton State University. Throughout the year, these groups sponsor a variety of extra and co-curricular activities for the campus and local community. In addition, student organizations provide a means for students to develop and refine leadership skills and to interact and network with students, faculty and staff.

Event Management

Student organizations should consult with the Department of Student Involvement & Family Relations before planning any major event. Some events may require an event checklist to be completed. These include:

- Any program or event open to anyone outside of the organization's membership
- Large scale fundraising events such as concerts, food sales, etc.
- Any event that requires a contract with a vendor or facility
- Alcohol will be served (If yes, also see the Social Host Policy event check list.)
- Additional insurance required

If your upcoming event matches any of these criteria, contact the Department of Student Involvement & Family Relations at 254-968-9490 or stop by Thompson Student Center, Room 105.

Benefits of being a RSO

- Use of University facilities, equipment, and technology
- Use of University logos
- Available Student Government Association funding
- Student Engagement and Success resources
